THE SYRACUSE FIRE

Loss of Life Not as Serious as First Reported.

ONLY EIGHT PERSONS DEAD.

A Number of Others, However, Reported Seriously Injured, Some of Whom May Die—A List of the Victims So Far as Ascertained.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 17.—By the burning of the Leland hotel the total loss exceeds $125,000. The hotel cost $[illegible]. The furniture is all destroyed. There was considerable loss sustained by the American Express company in its building and express matter, adjoining the hotel. The individual inmates of the hotel lost heavily in personal effects.

It is probable the loss of life will not exceed eight persons—three guests and five servants. About thirty persons were severely injured.

The hotel was burned to the ground. The Leland was built three years ago and was the best hotel in Syracuse.

The following is a list of the dead so far as known:

Annie Cummings, of New York, aged 25, jumped from the fifth floor and fractured the back part of her head and knees bruised, killed instantly.

William E. Harrop, of Elizabeth, N. J., place of business 79 Worth street, New York, aged 40, lowered himself by a rope half way down from the fourth floor, when the rope burned off and he fell to the ground; died two hours afterward.

Rose Schwartz, 23, hotel domestic, jumped from the fifth floor, right side of face smashed, compound fracture of both arms, died from shock and internal injuries at the House of Good Shephard at 8 a. m.

Unknown woman, about 25, hotel domestic, jumped from fifth floor and was instantly killed.

The missing are Mary Doyle, a servant, city; Robert T. Mills, of New York, a guest; A. J. Van Houten, of Jersey City, a guest; George E. Wood, of Dexter, N. Y., a guest.

The injured are:

Annie Campbell, aged 18, hotel domestic, jumped from the fifth floor; left ankle smashed; compound fracture of right upper arm; compound dislocation of right ankle, severe shock; will probably live.

R. S. Drysdale, of New York, aged 48 years, salesman, was on the fourth floor; came down two and a half stories on a rope when the escape refused to work; he dropped to the sidewalk; rupture of external ligaments of right ankle joint, concussion of the spine; hands badly burned; will likely recover.

Burnett Forbes, of this city, was in southwest corner of fifth floor; had to slide down a rope to the first floor, when a woman jumped out of a fifth story window above him, and in falling struck him on the shoulder, nearly causing him to fall. A ladder was then run up to him. Suffering from congestion of the lungs, caused by smoke, hands badly burned from friction of the rope.

F. F. Gilmore, of Pawtucket, R. I., aged 38, came down the rope and struck on a coal chute. A nail in a board ripped his back the full length of his spine; hands badly burned from friction of the rope.

Mrs. O'Connor, hotel domestic, fractured right arm, serious injuries about face; badly shocked.

Mary Tynen, aged 20, hotel domestic, compound fracture right arm; burned about face; badly shocked.

The young man in charge of the elevator stuck to his post with great bravery until the elevator was on fire and the flames shot up through the shaft from top to bottom. Until then he kept the elevator running to the fifth floor and brought down many who would doubtless have perished had he not stuck to his post.

Another Hotel Fire.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 17.—Just before 6 o'clock yesterday morning a telephone alarm of fire was turned in. Word quickly spread that the Globe hotel was on fire. The gas was lighted and the windows raised in nearly every room on the Salina street side of the Globe building. The guests were all aroused, and in a few minutes the halls were filled with men, women and children, some half dressed, but the majority in their night clothes. Some were routed out for the second time, having been in the fire at the Leland hotel.

The firemen strung two lines of hose through the office and up a back stairway to the kitchen, where the flames were gaining considerable headway in the ceiling and on two sides of the big refrigerator. Some of the woodwork was chopped away and the fire was soon put out. The shaft was badly burned on the inside from top to bottom. The fire extended from the shaft along the ceiling to the southeast corner of the room where the refrigerator stood. It gained great headway between the ceiling and the roof, a space of about two feet. With lively work the firemen soon had it under control.

LOCOMOTIVE ENGINEERS.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 17.—The International Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers held its annual meeting in the Grand opera house yesterday afternoon. Every available inch of room was occupied. Addresses were made by Master of Ceremonies H. K. Adams, Mayor Gourley, of Pittsburg; George W. Elphinstone, Esq., Lieutenant Governor Davies, Chauncey M. Depew, Grand Chief Arthur and others.

Mr. Adams spoke warmly of the reception accorded the visiting delegates and then read a number of letters from gentlemen expressing regret at their inability to be present. Among them were letters from President Roberts, of the Pennsylvania railroad; G. W. Childs, Governor Beaver, of Pennsylvania; Governor Campbell, of Ohio, and others.

President Depew received a genuine ovation when introduced by Chairman Adams. His address was listened to with great interest. Several times the speaker was compelled to pause owing to the enthusiasm and applause of his hearers.

Chief Arthur was also enthusiastically received by the audience. He prefaced his seventeenth annual report by stating the objects and intents of the convention. The speaker then recounted the many dangers encountered by the engineers, and of the fascination about the work to be found in few other occupations. The insurance feature of the Brotherhood was dwelt upon at length; $322,500 were paid during the past year to widows, orphans and disabled members, making a grand total of $3,122,069.61 paid out in benefits since the inauguration of the insurance idea.

The exercises closed with a few remarks and prayer by Bishop Whitehead.

A Chicago telegram states that a party of western engineers had started for this city for the purpose of opposing the conservative policy of Chief Arthur and as champions of federation.

In interviews with several of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers' grand officers, it was stated, no trouble is anticipated in settling the question of federation. That there is a wide difference of opinion upon the subject is well known.

One of the officers stated that he believes a majority of the subordinate divisions are opposed to federation, especially upon the basis proposed. Each of the 452 divisions have already voted upon the question. The result of the vote is as yet known only to the grand officers who will announce the vote to the convention when the question comes up for consideration.

In answer to the question "How does your organization regard the Knights of Labor?" First Grand Assistant Engineer Hayes said: "We are in sympathy with the members of every labor organization in the country. That is, we sympathize with them so long as they remain within the boundaries of law and reason, but we are opposed to that class of men who resort to violence as a means of settling disputes between labor and capital. The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers is opposed to anything un-American, and we will continue to follow this policy in the future as we have in the past."

NOT THAT KIND OF A MAYOR,

But the Marriageable Girls Abroad Refuse to Believe Him.

MONTREAL, Oct. 17.—The impression has gone abroad that the mayor of Montreal is a matrimonial agent. Some weeks since the mayor received a letter from a bachelor in the west, asking him to send to Arizona young Canadian women who wanted husbands. The mayor's reply that he did not keep a matrimonial agency got into the press, and now he is receiving letters from young marriageable women in France and England, and no less than three coming to hand Wednesday.

The first is from Marseilles. The fair writer says she is ready to come to Montreal and then go west. All she asks is money to pay her fare and she will leave at once. The two other letters are from London, and are written by an Anglo-Irish girl and a French girl. The former says she is 20, of graceful proportions, with dark and expressive eyes, and she is willing to send her photograph in exchange to any young man who means business. The French girl says she is 24, and would like to marry a man of 30 to 40. According to her modest pretensions her only attractions are a tall, elegant form, dark hair and dark eyes. She promises to be a good wife and is willing to exchange photographs.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Building Wrecked by an Explosion but no One Seriously Hurt.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 17.—There was an explosion at the Otis steel works, corner Lake and Lawrence streets, at 5 o'clock this morning, and how more than 200 men escaped being blown to atoms will always remain a mystery. As it was, but three were injured and these not seriously. They were John McCarty, Patrick O'Donnell and Patrick Dolan.

In one corner of the building was situated the converter filled with molten metal and immediately under it was a pool of water. The vapor and heavy atmosphere made it almost impossible to distinguish anything, and McCarty, who had charge of the converter neglected to turn off a stopcock and a moment later, four tons of metal were precipitated in the water. There was a loud report and the molten metal went flying in all directions, wrecking the building.

Miners Return to Work.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 17.—The Journal's Ishpeming, Mich., special says: Several hundred miners returned to work yesterday morning, but 2,000 are still out. A meeting of strikers was held yesterday afternoon to discuss the situation.

THE SEAL FISHERIES.

Very Discouraging Report Sent to Washington.

A VAST AMOUNT OF POACHING.

The Entire Industry Threatened Unless Some Active Steps at Protection Be at Once Adopted—Changes in the Tariff Law—Other Washington Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Official reports received at the treasury department from Special Agent Goff, in charge of the seal island fisheries, are of a most discouraging character. They state that poaching has been carried on this season to such an extent as actually to threaten the life of the seal industry as a source of revenue to the United States in the future, and if persisted in to the same extent next season to endanger its very existence.

Because of the alarming extent to which poaching has been carried on the number of seals allowed to be captured by the North American Commercial company, which holds a lease of St. George and St. Paul islands, was limited by the treasury department to 20,000 this season, though their contract called for 60,000. It is estimated by treasury department officials familiar with the poaching operations in Behring sea, that fully 60,000 seals have been captured unlawfully this season. These seals are shot in the open ocean, and not more than one in six shots is secured. This would represent a slaughter of 300,000 seals which have been wantonly killed and whose skins have never been recovered. It is not thought that the seal industry can long withstand this slaughter, as the seals are killed indiscriminately, without regard to age, sex or breeding season.

At this time only one revenue cutter, the Bear, is at the seal islands. The Rush arrived yesterday at San Francisco and the Corwin is now at Port Townsend. Several naval vessels are now in the region of the seal islands, but pending diplomatic negotiations between the United States and Great Britain in regard to the fisheries question generally, both on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, little aggressive action has been taken by naval officers, for fear of further complicating the situation.

Changes in the Tariff Law.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Secretary Windom has written a letter to the heads of the several executive departments informing them that under the new tariff law there is no provision such as that under the old tariff law, exempting "articles imported for the use of the United States, provided that the price of the same did not include the duty."

Articles imported for the use of the various departments, Secretary Windom decides are subject to duty unless specifically provided for in the free list.

Provision, he states, is made in the act for the admission free of duty of books, engravings, photographs, etchings, maps and charts for the use of the United States or the library of congress and of certain plants, shrubs and seeds for the use of the agricultural department.

Census Office Announcements.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The census office yesterday announced the following population statistics of cities and towns with increases since 1880:

Tennessee—Jackson, 10,022; increase 4,645. Memphis, 64, 586; increase 30,-994.

Texas—Marshall, 7,196; increase 1,572. Paris, 8,258, increase 4,278. Tyler, 6,908; increase 4,185.

The population of Texas 2,232,220, increase 640,571. Corrected population of Marietta, O., 8,398, increase 5,444. This recount was made necessary because the limits of Marietta were extended shortly before the enumeration so as to include the village of Harmar, the population of which was not included in the Marietta count. The population of Deadwood, S. Dak., now 2,366, has decreased 1,411 during the last decade.

Presidential Pardons.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The president has granted pardons to Bennett and Garrett Claason, convicted in Arkansas of larceny and sentenced to imprisonment for two years on Sept. 17, 1889; also, to Arthur W. Street, convicted in Illinois of violations of the internal revenue law and fined $3,000 and costs.

The president refused to pardon Hugh Rolen, convicted in Alabama of violations of the internal revenue law, and sentenced Sept. 9, 1889, to two years' imprisonment and a fine of $100. The president says that Rolen is an old offender and that the punishment is not too severe.

Tariff on Lumber.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Assistant Secretary Spaulding has written a letter to collectors of customs on the Canadian border informing them of the action of the Canadian government in taking off the export duty on timber or lumber of any kind whatsoever, after Oct 13. "Under these circumstances," says Assistant Secretary Spaulding, "sawed lumber imported from Canada after the [illegible] will be subjected to duty at the rates prescribed by the new tariff."

Sure to Hang.

MORRIS, Ill., Oct. 17.—James Maxwell one of the murderers of Charles Decker and his mother, will die to-day [illegible] sentence. The scaffold is ready, and the condemned man says he is ready to meet his doom. He spends much time in reading the Bible and is thought to be in a penitent mood. Judge [illegible], who defended him, says no steps have been taken to secure a stay of proceedings as it would be useless.

BURIED UNDER RED-HOT COALS.

Seven Men Probably Fatally Injured at a Pittsburg Furnace.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 17.—A serious accident occurred at Moorhead and McLean's Second avenue furnace yesterday, which resulted in a great destruction of property and the serious and probably fatal injury to seven or more employes. At 1:30 o'clock a gang of men were engaged in blowing out one of the large iron furnaces preparatory to making repairs. The bridge in the furnace stack broke down, allowing several tons of almost white hot coke fell, completely burying seven workmen.

Edward Hughes and his brother were taken out alive, but burned almost beyond recognition. They cannot recover. Five Hungarians, names unknown, were also rescued. They are terribly roasted. The injured were removed to hospitals.

Edward Hughes, aged 30 years, died at the hospital at 6:45 in the evening; leaves widow and family; entire surface of his body was broiled.

Mike Corwat, Hungarian, aged 23, died at the hospital at 6:30 o'clock; unmarried; flesh burned off body in several places.

Michael Berin, dying, Hungarian, aged 28 years; body terribly burned; unmarried.

Andy Hayder, Hungarian, aged 32, will die; married; flesh on head and body burned almost to a crisp.

Lizlo Fedor, Hungarian, aged 50 years, has wife in Hungary; burned over entire body; no chance of recovery.

August Murch, German, aged ? years, has wife and four children seriously burned about head and body, may recover.

Lewis Yardan, Hungarian, aged 33; face and arms burned; will get well but may lose his eyesight.

The accident was unforeseen and entirely unavoidable. The furnace had been blown preparatory to relining it, and water had been turned on the coke of which twenty or more tons clung to the sides. A gang of men were inside the stack breaking loose the bottom, when suddenly a large iron band that supported the furnace bottom gave way. The workmen heard the great mass above them beginning to fall and with a cry of horror ran for their lives.

The break was on the side from which they ran, and the great mass of hot coke poured out over them. None of the workmen were buried by the avalanche, but were burned by the tongues of flame and volume of sparks which reached out after them. Men, with half their clothing cut from their bodies as by knives and the remainder in flames, ran through the streets or lay down and rolled in the puddles which the rain had formed.

Eye witnesses state that the air inside the building seemed to be on fire, every rag of clothing was burned from the body of one of the Hungarians, who is now dying. With his flesh hanging in shreds and an eye burned from its socket, he ran to the police station a hundred yards away, where he was cared for until the arrival of an ambulance.

Edward Hughes, who died yesterday evening, appeared to have lost his reason during the few minutes of his most intense suffering. He ran a considerable distance with his clothing on fire, and then extinguished the flames by rolling in the wet street. He then bolted straight ahead again for a half mile or more, when he made his way into the house of persons totally unknown to him, badly frightening the inmates. He threw himself on the floor and was shortly after taken away by a few men who had followed him.

That more men were not hurt is remarkable, considering the large number near and the manner in which those injured received their burns. The loss to the furnace company is small.

A PERILOUS PASSAGE.

PARIS, Oct. 17.—In an interview had with the Irish patriots, Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien, who arrived in this city yesterday after a most exciting experience in effecting their escape from Ireland, Mr. Dillon said that after the yacht had been out for two days her supply of oil became exhausted, and in consequence the captain was compelled to navigate his vessel at night in the much-traveled waters of the British channel with lamps unlit. Several steamers rushed past in perilous proximity to the little craft.

Mr. O'Brien stated that the sole object of the flight was to enable the two gentlemen to keep their engagement in the United States.

He was confident that their mission would prove successful. Mr. O'Brien spoke enthusiastically of the perfect accord and harmony which existed in the party in Ireland, and emphasized the loyalty of both rank and file of the Nationalists to the leadership of Mr. Parnell. So discouraged was the Tory party that its only hope was in the death of Mr. Gladstone or the bankruptcy of the Irish National league.

After remaining eight days in Paris for the purpose of enjoying a brief rest after their recent severe trials, and to permit of communication with the leaders of the party in Ireland and America, the famous Irishmen will proceed to Havre. There they will take a steamer displaying the flag of the French republic and bound for New York.

Sentenced for Life.

ROCKPORT, Ind., Oct. 17.—John Pinnick has been sentenced to the penitentiary for life for the murder of his cousin, Frank Pinnick, in Dubois county, one year ago. The case occupied three days, and the jury returned their verdict after ten minutes' deliberation.

OHIO STATE NEWS.

Items Gathered Especially for Buckeye Readers.

LEGISLATIVE PROCEEDINGS.

Politics is the One Subject Discussed in Both Branches—The Compromise Bill Giving the Governor Power to Remove the Cincinnati Board of Public Improvement Passes the Senate—Other State News.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 17.—When the house opened yesterday Mr. Crowley offered a substitute to Hodge's resolution providing for an investigation of state benevolent institutions requiring said investigation to be general. He explained that Hodge's resolution was only designed to get at two. He stated that his would enlarge the scope of investigation; as he had voted against the previous one, he offered his to square himself.

Both sides then launched a number of campaign speeches. The Republicans declared that they were ready to restore home rule to the people of Cincinnati, and to abolish the board of public improvements.

In the senate the proposition to refer to a committee of one the bill abolishing the city comptroller's office of Cincinnati was discussed. Richards opposed reference. Kerr, of Richland, Republican, spoke in behalf of the comptroller and thought nothing had been shown to prove anything amiss.

The resolution to refer was carried, 19 yeas to 16 nays.

The senate then passed Senator Gaumer's bill giving the governor the power to abolish the Cincinnati board of public improvements, and appoint a non-partisan board until next April election. The Republicans were opposed to it, and the Democrats, under the previous question, passed it by a strict party vote according to the caucus agreement. It was read in the house the first time, but one attempt to suspend the rules and put it on the second and third reading and then pass it, was defeated after a heated discussion. The Republicans of the house are opposed to it, and it may be difficult to secure its passage in the lower body.

The senate also passed Corcoran's resolution providing for an investigation of the alleged municipal dishonesty at Cincinnati. The power of the committee is comprehensive and they will report at the next regular session.

Senator Massie's bill to allow Chillicothe to issue $100,000 worth of bonds to secure the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern shops passed the senate but was defeated in the house.

A joint resolution passed the house to adjourn the extra session sine die Saturday noon, and the senate will agree to it.

Store and Postoffice Robbed.

AKRON, O., Oct. 17.—A daring robbery was committed early Thursday morning at Randolph Centre, near Akron. Burglars broke into D. W. Dellebarger's general store, worked the combination of the safe, and extracted $600 in cash, kept to meet payment, and $200 worth of stamps which Dellebarger held as postmaster. No clew to the thieves.

Postoffice Thieves Again at It.

CANTON, O., Oct. 17.—Burglars Wednesday night entered the residence of Postmaster Shellenberger at Randolph, a small town near here, stealing a gold watch and the key to the postoffice and store near by. Going to the later place they opened the safe, securing $180 in money and $200 in stamps. No clew.

New Incorporations.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 17.—Articles of incorporation were filed with the secretary of state yesterday as follows: The Thomas Kelsall company, Cincinnati, $25,000; Warren Savings Bank company, $100,000; Pittsburg Coal, Clay and Cement company, Bellaire, $75,000.

Prisoner Pardoned.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 17.—Governor Campbell, on the recommendation of the board of pardons, has granted a pardon to William B. Smith, a one-year man from Richland county for embezzlement.

Rhodhouse Indicted for Murder.

VAN WERT, O., Oct 17.—Rhodhouse, now in Van Wert jail for murdering his engineer, Vandevender, while running an engine on the Mackinaw road, has been indicted for second degree murder.

Millinery Store Burned.

NORWALK, O., Oct 17.—Rich's millinery and fancy goods store, East Main street, this city, was destroyed by fire and water last night. Loss, $3,000; insured for $[illegible].

The Iron Men in Wisconsin.

ASHLAND, Wis., Oct. 17.—The European iron men now visiting Lake Superior ranges are at Ironwood. They will spend most of the time in the Norrie mine, in the Gogebic range, the largest producer of iron ore in the world. The estimated output of the Norrie for this year is [illegible] tons, of the Gogebic range, [illegible] tons, of the entire Lake Superior district, 9,000,000 tons.

Stock Train Wrecked.

[illegible], Oct. 17.—A stock train was wrecked on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy [illegible] this morning. Thirteen cars of stock and two [illegible] were destroyed [illegible] the engineer and fireman are reported to be badly hurt. The track is blocked and trains from the east have not arrived. A wrecking train has been sent from here, and the track will be cleared as soon as possible.

IT WAS ASSASINATION.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 17.—David C. Hennessy, chief of police of this city, who was shot down by three men shortly before 12 o'clock Wednesday night, died at 9 o'clock yesterday morning at the Charity hospital. The assassination, it is supposed, was the work of Italians, whose vendettas the chief expressed his determination to suppress. Several arrests have been made.

Capt. William J. O'Connor, of the Boylan protective police and the superintendent's chosen and trusted friend, makes the following statement regarding the shooting: "We left the Central police station about ten or fifteen minutes past 11 o'clock. We walked up the woods side of Rampart street to Girard where we parted, the chief saying: 'Don't come any further with me now; you go on and look after your business.' As we parted the chief started towards Basin street, taking the downtown side of Girard street. I took the uptown side of Girard street and walked in the direction of the river.

"On my way I met a city policeman and a Boylan officer. I had just reached the corner of Dryadas and Girard when I heard a loud report of a shotgun, and turning quickly around and looking toward Basin street I saw the flashes and heard two more loud reports. The flashes came from the front of the two-story frame house at the uptown river corner of Girard and Basin street. Almost simultaneously with the reports of the shot guns three or four pistol shots fired in quick succession from the lower side of the street rang out. The last reports must have been the chief's return of the murderous fire.

"I at once started on a quick run towards Basin street, two blocks distant, and on my way over took Officer Colter, of the Boylan protective police, of whom I inquired: 'Which way did they run?' He replied: 'I believe it was up town.' Five or six people were then on the street in our vicinity. I heard the chief call, 'Oh, Billy, Billy.' I hurried towards the spot whence the cry came, and found the chief sitting on the doorstep of a house on Basin street, between Girard and Lafayette streets. As I came up he said to me: 'They have given it to me and I gave them back the best I could.' Bending over the chief, I said to him: 'Who gave it to you, Dave?' He replied: 'Dagoes.'"

The crime is one that the chief and his more intimate friends have regarded as within the range of probability for some years past, and for two or three years he has always been accompanied by some trusty friend on his way home.

Wednesday night he walked to the door of his house, and pausing a moment to draw his latch key from his pocket, he turned into the doorway. It was while in this position, his side turned toward his assassins, that the first two shots were fired, the weapons being double-barrelled shot guns, one barrel of each being fired at a time. As quickly as the man could cock the gun the second barrel was fired.

The assassination caused a great sensation throughout the city, and expressions of regret are heard in every quarter. The British consul, De Fon Blanque, sent a note to Mayor Shakespeare yesterday expressing heartfelt regret for the heavy loss which the community has sustained by his untimely death. Mr. Hennessey was but 50 years age and unmarried. Four of the assassins have been arrested and identified as Antonio Schaffadi, Antonio Bagnetti, Sebastian Incardo and Petro Mateo.

Fiercely Raging Marsh Fire.

LACROSSE, Ind., Oct. 17.—A fierce fire is raging in the great marsh which surrounds this town, and the greatest excitement prevails. The marsh covers more than 6,000 acres. Four thousand tons of stacked hay has already been burned, and 3,000 tons more is sure to be destroyed.

A BIG FAILURE.

Assignment of R. G. Peters, a Lumber Merchant.

MANISTEE, Mich., Oct. 17.—R. G. Peters has failed. This is the biggest crash in the state for many years, and comes from a source least expected. Mr. Peters was the leading spirit in a score of big enterprises, and was a baron in the lumber and salt trade.

The assignment is made to A. M. Henry, of Detroit, a brother-in-law of ex-Governor Alger, and covers millions of dollars' worth of property.

The failure will be far-reaching in its effects. Megs & Company, lumbermen; Dunham & Company, Grand Rapids, and the Fifth National bank, of the second city, are all interested in the collapse.

A bill of sale of a half-interest in the wholesale grocery of Lemon & Peters, of Grand Rapids, was filed yesterday morning by R. G. Peters in favor of C. H. Davison, of Detroit. The sale calls for $10,000, and was given to protect the Detroit National bank and Governor Alger.

THE BRIDGE GAVE WAY.

A Freight Train Falls a Distance of Seventy Feet.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 17.—A Helena, Mont., special to The Tribune says seven men are lying more or less injured at the Catholic hospital in that city from a bad wreck on the Boulder branch of the Northern Pacific. The eastbound freight passed as far as Bridge 19 and when fairly on the same, the bridge went down with the entire train, falling a distance of seventy feet. The train is badly wrecked.

When the news was received there a relief train was speedily sent out to bring in the wounded. The train's crew suffered chiefly. The injured are: Engineer H. Mayhew, spine and internal injuries; Fireman Loudford, arm broken and internal injuries, at present unconscious; Conductor Fenney, badly injured, could not talk. Among the passengers were R. Rudolph, of Helena. His ankle was broken, spine injured and head badly bruised. A. J. Withrow had his right limb crushed and back injured.

TORTURED BY TURKS.

Armenian Prisoners Deprived of Food and Sleep and Otherwise Maltreated.

VIENNA, Oct. 17.—A dispatch from Constantinople states that arrests of Armenians are still being made and that many of those who have been taken into custody have been shockingly maltreated and tortured. Among other cruelties to which the prisoners have been subjected is the withholding from them of all food. They have also been deprived of sleep. Persons suspected of disloyalty are arrested upon information being lodged against them by any spy.

The Armenian recently arrested for attempting to murder an arch-priest in Kooen-Kapou quarter of Constantinople was to-day found dead in his cell. It is alleged that his death was the direct result of the tortures inflicted upon him. The officials at Van, Armenia, are still arming the Turks, and outrages upon the Armenians there are of frequent occurrence.

Six Horses Cremated.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 17.—A large barn on the dairy farm of E. J. Turner, just west of this city, burned, together with most of its contents. Of seven horses in the barn, six were burned to death and one escaped, but will be killed. The animal presented a fearful sight. There is no clew to the origin of the fire. The barn and horses were fully insured.

The Weather.

Fair weather, except preceded by rain; warmer; southerly winds.

A Ray of Hope.

For all who are held by the chains of scrofula or other diseases of the blood comes from Hood's Sarsaparilla, which by imparting the elements of good health and strength to the vital fluid, dissolves the bonds of disease and sets the captive free. No other remedy in existence combines the positive economy, the peculiar merit and the medicinal power of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

ALAS!

How wretched is the man who has fallen a victim to Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, or diseased Liver, with all the horrible attendants. Look upon the picture. Poor man, being tired of dragging out a miserable existence, he is the picture of despondency; altogether, he is rather a forlorn specimen. Do we pity him? Of course; but at the same time feel assured that in a measure he is to blame for the bad state into which he has fallen. A sure, safe, speedy and lasting cure can be found in Simmons Liver Regulator—Nature's own remedy. No mercury or deleterious drugs, not unpleasant to the taste, and always reliable—just such a remedy as you can pin your faith to without a shadow of disappointment. Read the testimonial, don't take our word for it:

> "I have been subject to severe spells of Congestion of the Liver, and have been in the habit of taking from 15 to 20 grains of calomel, which generally laid me up for three or four days. Lately I have been taking Simmons Liver Regulator which gave me relief, with out any interruption to business." J. HUGG, Middleport, Ohio.

THE CURIOSITY SHOP

The Origin of the Names of Several of the States.

At an annual meeting of the American Antiquarian society Mr. H. B. Staples read a paper in which he discussed the origin of the names of several of the states. He said: New Hampshire gets its name from Hampshire, England. Massachusetts is derived from an Indian name, first given to the bay, signifying "near the great hills." Rhode Island has an obscure origin; the island of Rhodes, the "Island of the Roads" and a Dutch origin, "Red Island," were mentioned, the first seeming to have the best historical support. Connecticut is an Indian name, signifying "land on a long tidal river." Virginia, the Carolinas and Georgia have a royal origin. Maine was named from the fact that it was supposed to contain "the mayne portion" of New England. Vermont has no especial question except that it is claimed to have been first an alias—New Connecticut, alias Vermont.

Kentucky popularly signifies either a "dark and bloody ground" or "a bloody river," but its origin signifies "the head of a river" or "the long river." Tennessee comes from its river, the name being derived from the name of an Indian village on the river—"Tanassee." Ohio is named after an Indian name, signifying "something great," with an accent of admiration. Indiana comes from the name of an early land company. Illinois comes from the Indian—the name of a tribe. Michigan is claimed to mean "lake country," it probably came from the name of the lake, "Great Lake," which bore this name before the land adjacent was named. Louisiana is from the French. Arkansas and Missouri are Indian, the former doubtful; [illegible] the latter is claimed to mean in its orig[illegible] [illegible]nal "muddy water," which describes [illegible] [illegible] river. Iowa is also Indian, with do[illegible] [illegible]e river. Texas is popular[illegible] [illegible]otful meaning, [illegible] dian, but may [illegible] [illegible]y supposed to be Indian. Spanish, "a f[illegible] [illegible]be Spanish. Florida is conjecture[illegible] [illegible]owery land." Oregon has a but a P[illegible] [illegible] origin. It is probably Indian. C[illegible] [illegible]panish origin is claimed.

[illegible]alifornia comes from a Spanish romance of 1510. Nevada takes its name from the mountains, which get theirs from a resemblance to the Nevadas of South America. Minnesota is Indian, "sky tinted water." Nebraska is variously rendered "shallow water" and "flat country."

Kansas is from an Indian root, Kaw, corrupted by the French. Mississippi is "great water" or "whole river." Alabama is Indian, the name of a fortress and a tribe, signifying, as is claimed, "here we rest."

The Study of Literature.

Cardinal Newman was one of the many eminent men who have used abstracts as an aid to study. He drew up a summary of every book he read, together, in many cases, with a statement of his own views upon it. Mr. Gladstone, it may be added, does something of the same kind. He reads a book, pencil in hand, marking off on the margin those passages which he wishes to remember, querying those about which he is in doubt, and putting a cross opposite those which he disputes. At the end of the volume he constructs a kind of index of his own, which enables him to refer to what he wishes to remember in the book.

Mr. Gladstone is thus an advocate of marginal marking. The great Sir William Hamilton was in favor of underscoring. "Intelligent underlining," he said, "gave a kind of abstract of an important work, and by the use of different colored inks to mark a difference of contents and discriminate the doctrinal from the historical or illustrative elements of an argument or exposition the abstract becomes an analysis very serviceable for ready reference." But this assumes, as Mr. Morley remarked in his lecture on "The Study of Literature," that the book to be operated on is your own, and perhaps it is rather too elaborate a counsel of perfection for most of us. Even Cardinal Newman's plan is probably more than most people care to adopt.

Interesting Facts About Pearls.

Pearls, as most readers know, are small bodies found either in mother-of-pearl shells or in those with a nacreous lining. They are formed either by a disease, by the presence of a parasite, or by an effort on the part of the mollusk to rid itself of some foreign substance which has found its way into the shell. Pearls are composed of many layers of carbonate of lime with organic matter between, are not always entirely pearly throughout, and invariably have some small central core or nucleus. Round pearls of fine luster and color are very valuable, and their value increases rapidly with their size. The finest white pearls are from India, the Persian gulf and Panama; the finest black and gray pearls, from the coast of Lower California. Beautiful pink tinted pearls are often secreted by the common brook mussels. One valued at over $2,000 was found near Paterson, N. J., in 1856, and quite a number have been met with in Ohio, Tennessee, Kentucky and Texas, and also in England, Scotland and Germany.

Coffee and Coffee Houses.

Coffee came to England from Persia and Arabia, and to these countries from Ethiopia. It was used at first by the Mohammedans as a means of preventing drowsiness when they wished to remain all night at their devotions. It reached France and England about the same time as tea. The first man who seems to have used it in England was a Greek, a student of Balliol college, Oxford. At the restoration of King Charles II coffee houses became common in London and were soon places of great resort. The coffee fruit or berry is something like a haw, being red when ripe. Two seeds are found imbedded in its pulp.

Discovery of a Large House in Pompeii.

A house of five stories leaning against a rising ground has just been excavated in Pompeii in which important frescoes are still in a good state of preservation. In the principal room is a representation of Bellerophon—a youth holding the winged Pegasus with one hand while with the other he receives the orders from Proteus, who is seated on a richly decorated throne. The lower part of the house is divided into bathrooms. The paintings in the triclinium are specially well preserved—a nymph riding on a sea horse, and a frieze with comic scenes of pigmies fighting birds and crocodiles in Egypt.

level of the water outside. The outer pressure exercised on the disk, as well as the pressure beneath, is now equal to the weight of a body of water having for its base the surface of the opening of the tube, its depth being the distance from the cardboard to the level of the water.

Syringes, pumps, etc., are based upon the effects of atmospheric pressure. Balloons rise in the air by means of the buoyancy of gas. A balloon being a body plunged in air, is consequently submitted to the same laws as a body plunged in water. Boats float because of the pressure of liquid, and water spurts from a fountain for the same reason.

Numbered with useful applications of the principles of fluid pressure is the following: A horse was laden with two tubs for carrying a supply of water, and in the bottom of the tubs a valve was fixed. When the horse entered the stream the tubs were partly immersed, the water then exercised its upward pressure, the valve opened and the tubs slowly filled. When they were nearly full the horse turned round and came out of the water. The pressure had ceased. Thus the action of the water first opened the valve and then closed it.

Microscopic Organisms in Cheese.

M. Adametz has lately made some researches upon the microscopic organisms that inhabit cheese. In Emmenthal, a soft variety of Gruyere cheese, he found in each gramme when fresh from 90,000 to 140,000 microbes. This number increases with time. But the population of a cheese is not everywhere distributed the same in it. The center is but moderately inhabited with respect to the exterior portion. The population of a soft cheese near the periphery is from 3,000,000 to 5,600,000 microbes. According to the mean of these two figures there are as many living organisms in 200 grammes of such a cheese as there are people upon the earth.

Curious Animalcule.

Plants have their lowest representatives, called protophytes. Animals which correspond to this class are termed protozoa, from the Greek protos, first, and zoon, animal. The protozoa are microscopic creatures consisting of one or more cells and are infinitely small, thousands existing in a drop of water. They have no distinction of sexes, and their generation takes place by subdivision or blending of cells. The infusoria are the highest of the protozoa. Their numbers are infinite, and in a drop of water some very interesting specimens will be found. (See cut.)

These infusoria are a jelly like substance, and some have hairy appendages with which they agitate the water and cause a kind of current that brings them food. It is this partaking of food that serves to di

Neat Touches in Finishing Off and Mounting Ornamental Needlework.

The finishing touches, by which is meant the borders, the cords, the tassels, the lining and [illegible], are all important items in decorative needlework. In finishing off fancy work a handsome substitute for cords or fringe is found in a three plait composed of many strands of silk. The effect is decorative. For the draw strings of opera, fancy and work bags the same plait is chosen in place of strings of ribbon or cords. Then again, the tassels are not sewn on to the draw strings; they are formed with the ends left of the silk plait; these are tied round tightly until they assume the shape of tassels. Sometimes silks of several different colors are used for the plait, they correspond always with the embroidery.

For instance, an opera bag is of terra cotta satin lined with a pale shade of terra cotta cord. The embroidered pattern is done in shades of gray, green and gold. The plait and tassels are of the same shades as the embroidery, but fewer are used, one of deep smoke, one of pale green and one of gold. About two-thirds of the plait is of smoke gray, which is a charming contrast to the terra cotta. The linings are shorter than the satin bags. They are loose below the drawstring, but are just sewn to the center of the bottom of the satin. This pulls up the latter, and makes it look full and soft. This plan would not answer for sacks, but it is admirable for round bottomed bags.

Narrow gold gimp is most useful to the mounter. Embroidered book covers have rows of it across the back to represent the gold lines on leather bindings. Some are also edged with it. It is good, too, for hiding the sewing which is necessary when covering caskets and boxes with embroidered satin or velvet. Table covers of oriental fabrics, serge or embroidered materials often need but the simplest edging. A reversed vandyked finish is made of crewels or silks—just an outlined vandyke, say, of blue, with one line of gold up the center. Another method of finishing off the edge of the material is to work five or seven deep buttonhole stitches not very close together, then to leave a space of half an inch or so, then repeat the stitches.

Gauze Fans and Grate Screen.

The artistic arrangement in our cut represents a hanging panel that may be used as a grate screen, and three gauze fans for decorative purposes.

The shaped panel is in gauze silk of a delicate tint of pink, embroidered with silk to represent a large trail of roses and birds with a dragon fly. It is stretched over wire and edged with a gold cord, a loop of which suspends the screen in front of the grate or allows it to be hung to the wall. Of the fans one is fancifully cut in cream gauze, embroidered and edged with a narrow ruching of pink satin ribbon, finished off with a large satin bow; the handle is gilt. Another is in white gauze, embellished in the center with a bunch of roses. The large fan is hand painted with a nest and flowers.

GAUZE FANS AND GRATE SCREEN.

Canned Goods and Open Tins.

An "expert" says that canned goods should be turned out and eaten as soon as possible. If kept at all the food should be covered and put in a cool place—always, however, turned out of the original tin. The liquor around lobsters, salmon and all vegetables, excepting tomatoes, it is desirable to strain off and throw away. Lobsters and prawns are improved by being turned out into a sieve and rinsed with clear cold water. Never on any account add vinegar, sauces or any kind of condiment to tinned foods while they are in the tins.

All tinned goods are put up as fresh as it is possible for them to be, but unless they are cured or salted will not keep if turned out as freshly cooked goods will, and certainly not longer, as many thoughtlessly suppose or expect they will. Sardines, if preserved in good oil and of good quality, will be an exception; so long as the oil is good the fish can be kept in tins.—Grocers' Chronicle.

Kitchen Floors.

Kitchen floors will be kept in good condition for two years, says a Good Housekeeping correspondent, if equal parts of Vandyke brown and burnt sienna are added to the oil. These may be had ground in oil and put up in one pound cans. The shade may be regulated to suit the fancy. This is preferable to paint and impervious to "spots." Clean the floor with clear, moderately hot water; no soap.

WHAT SHALL WE WEAR?

FASHIONS THAT ARE APPROVED AT HOME AND ABROAD.

The Popularity of the Tea Gown—New Frocks Described and Illustrated for the Benefit of Fair Readers Who Wish to Keep Up with the Times.

Tea [illegible] is long ago decided both by the [illegible] who wear them and the modistes who [illegible] them have come to stay. The tea gown is no longer a simple garment for [illegible] [illegible], but in many instances a [illegible] affair, worthy of a large and critical audience. No lady's wardrobe is complete without a tea gown; indeed, most ladies possess several.

Some of the new tea gowns are worth describing. A black satin affair seen was trimmed with white lace, fully gathered round the [illegible] falling thence to the hem on the left side. The sleeves were tucked, puffed and gathered at the wrist with a frill of lace.

A Japanese tea gown was of quite another order [illegible] blue satin, trimmed with colored [illegible] galloon. It was in the make that the garment followed the modes of the eastern nation. The sleeves were of the cut we associate with the land of the mikado, and the front fell in the loose, easy folds of that country. A buttercup tone of oriental silk had been made in a very graceful tea gown, the collar square and tucked, the sleeves pendent, the soft drapery caught up on one side.

TEA GOWN WITH DRAPED BODICE.

The tea gown illustrated in the cut is fashioned with a draped bodice, invisibly fastened, and wide sleeves of surah silk, like the skirt. This latter is surrounded along the edge with a fluted ruching in finely plaited mousseline chiffon. The turned down collar, revers of sleeves and girdle in variegated embroidery are in harmony with the Watteau train in soft brocade, lined with foulard.

Fashions for Men.

Dressing is a serious as well as expensive business in the life of a fashionable man. Thrice a day does he array himself in different clothes. A tweed suit is his morning wear. In the afternoon he dons a frock coat, a somewhat dressier waistcoat and a bigger tie. In the evening he has to dress for dinner, and if he be a tremendous swell he will, later on, exchange his dress again, this time for a smoking suit. The English set the fashions for men, the Prince of Wales giving the keynote in his own wardrobe. For instance, broadcloth has gone out of fashion for dress suits, the prince setting the fashion for rougher fabrics. Vicunas and rough and smooth twill fabrics are the favorites. A square figure is the kind aimed at among Englishmen now. This effect is produced by the shoulders being cut narrow, and a little extra fullness put into the sleeves.

The New Opera Glass Bag.

To enumerate even half the many ways in which silver is now used would be impossible within the prescribed limits of a short article. How it has served not only in personal ornaments, but as a mounting for every imaginable thing, from the fittings of elaborate traveling bags to the handles of our sticks and umbrellas; how it has taken possession of writing tables and turned many dressing tables into exhibitions on a small scale of some of the best work of the silversmith's craft. These are, indeed, but a few instances of the many and various ends that silver serves.

It often happens that these silver and silver trimmed affairs are merely old friends returned to us, in slightly different guise, perhaps, but substantially the same; others confute the often repeated statement that there is nothing new under the sun. Such a one is here illustrated in the cut reproduced from The Jewelers' Circular. It is silver mounted opera glass bag is the latest thing out. The bag is of plush in any color that may be desired, with a silk or satin lining. It is drawn together at the top with cords, after the usual fashion of these bags, the novel feature being, of course, the ornate silver mounting, which not only enhances the intrinsic worth of the bag, but produces a decorative effect that is decidedly pleasing.

SILVER MOUNTED OPERA BAG.

Fancy Belts.

There are many fancy belts made—some in leather, with leather covered buckle; others have two rows of leather united, with strands of [illegible] gold cord. These have two buckles, as one is supposed to be able to draw in the waist tighter with the lower buckle. There are also the jeweled belts and [illegible] to match. These are generally of gold [illegible] ribbon, with a motif in raised [illegible] work, set with imitation [illegible] or other stones. These belts [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] motif or three—that is, one for the front and one for each side; at the back they are finished off with a [illegible] of the gold ribbon. The prettiest are those made slightly pointed in the front, and the motif arranged in points also.

How to Succeed.

Mrs. Michael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use and after taking ten bottles, found herself sound and well, now does her own housework and is as well as she ever was. Free trial bottles of this great discovery at Flecken's drug store, large bottles 50c. and $1.

Mrs. Henry E. Pierson, the handsome mother of the handsome Mrs. Grover Cleveland, is said to be a splendid housekeeper. In [illegible] she [illegible] [illegible] to be seen with her husband every Saturday morning going to Washington market with [illegible].

For Animals.

Mange, Distemper, Diarrhoea and Worms in dogs quickly cured. Scratches, Sores, Galls, Bruises, Cuts or Wounds of any kind quickly and permanently healed by washing with the Fluid. Dr. J. Hough, the distinguished Veterinary Surgeon, says: "I use Darby's Prophylactic Fluid and all that it is represented. As a [illegible] [illegible] I [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] without an equal." For Cows and Sows it acts like magic.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles or no pay required. Threatened with Assassination.

OKLAHOMA CITY, O. T., Oct. 17.—Governor Steele, en route to Kingfisher to attend a Grand Army reunion, received warning that he would be assassinated if he passed through here because of his having vetoed the bill locating the territorial capital at this place. At the solicitation of his family and his friends he left the train at a small station before reaching Oklahoma City and continued his journey by stage.

A Fatal Mistake.

Physicians make no more fatal mistakes than when they inform patients that nervous heart troubles come from the stomach and are of little consequence. Dr. Franklin Miles, the noted Indiana specialist, has proven the contrary in his new book on "Heart Disease," which may be had free at Denison & Co. and Hoberman & Co's who guarantee and recommend Dr. Miles' unequaled New Heart Cure, which has the largest sale of any heart remedy in the world. It cures nervous and organic heart disease, short breath, fluttering, pain or tenderness in the side, arm or shoulder, irregular pulse, fainting, smothering, dropsy, etc. His Restorative Nervine cures headache, fits, etc.

Happy Hoosiers.

Wm. Timmons, postmaster of Idaville, Ind., writes: "Electric Bitters has done more for me than all other medicines combined, for that bad feeling arising from kidney and liver trouble." John Leslie, farmer and stockman, of the same place, says: "Find Electric Bitters to be the best kidney and liver medicine, made me feel like a new man." J. W. Gardner, hardware merchant, same town says: "Electric Bitters is just the thing for a man who is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies; he found new strength, good appetite and felt just like he had a new lease on life. Only 50c. a bottle, at Flecken's drug store.

Consuls Exchanged.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Mr. Philip Carroll, of New York, consul at Palermo, Italy, and Mr. H. C. Pugh, of Indiana, consul at New Castle, England, have been directed to exchange places.

Scrofula

Is the most ancient and most general of all diseases. Scarcely a family is entirely free from it, while thousands everywhere are its suffering slaves. Hood's Sarsaparilla has had remarkable success in curing every form of scrofula. The most severe and painful running sores, swellings in the neck or goitre, humor in the eyes, causing partial or total blindness, yield to the powerful effects of this medicine. It thoroughly removes every impurity from the blood.

Scrofula

"My little daughter's life was saved, as we believe, by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Before she was six months old she had 7 running scrofula sores. One physician advised the amputation of one of her fingers, to which we refused assent. When we began giving her Hood's Sarsaparilla a marked improvement was noticed and by a continued use of it her recovery was complete. And she is now, being seven years old, strong and healthy." B. C. JONES, Alna, Lincoln County, Me.

Caledonia.

There has been much rain the past week, and so far, very little frost; indeed many trees have their full foliage yet.

We have been having a regular western exodus for the past week. Ira Seckel and sister Ota, Henry and Orpha Lindsey left for a visit in Missouri this week. Geo. Longacre, Harve Boynton and Russel Roberts left this week for the state of Washington, where the first two named expect to make their future home; Roberts has gone for his health and expects to be gone for some time.

Wm. Osborn went to Chicago this week. He expects to go to southwestern Illinois before he returns, to visit his sister.

Rev. Martindale, of Cardington, representing the M. E. church, and Rev. Carney, of Mt. Gilead, representing the Universalist church, have commenced in their field of labor at this place. May their labors be crowned with success is our sincere wish, and may the white-winged angel of harmony throw her mantle around us once more.

Prof. Lewis Ranck intends moving to Marion next week. He has accepted a position in the Marion Normal and begins work in the near future. Prof. Ranck's scholarship and ability for the position is unquestioned.

Last Sabbath occurred the funeral of Charles Cochran. "Charley," as he was familiarly called, was working for H. L. Decker, cutting corn, and without a moment's warning Thursday, Oct. 9, was stricken with epilepsy. He never regained consciousness, and died Friday night following. He was a very industrious young man, and had many friends in this vicinity. The parents have the sympathy of the entire community, which was shown by the beautiful tribute of flowers placed upon the casket.

There has been a Chautauqua Reading Circle organized here, but we do not know how many members. Prof. Smith is doing all he can to get the teachers interested in work of this kind, he has also been instrumental in organizing the Ohio Reading Circle at this place.

We understand that Wm. Donce has purchased the J. W. Hinus property and will soon move to our village. By the way, we notice quite a number of retired farmers (and substantial ones, financially) have moved into our town in the last few years.

Politics opens up in our midst next week. Dodge Hare will address us Tuesday night. We then expect him to tell us why he went back on Hon. B. G. Young, who was our choice for congressman.

We had the pleasure of seeing President Harrison last Monday as he passed through our town. He gave us a clever nod of the head and wave of the hand in passing through. It is reported that his genial smile has converted Dr. Winters to the Republican faith. How is it Doctor?

Agosta.

Ira Ferguson's father, of the east part of the state, is visiting his son for a week.

Three hundred of our villager were out with enthusiasm Monday to greet President Harrison as he passed through here.

Mrs. B. F. Severns left Thursday to join her husband at the Cincinnati Medical College.

Rev. M. D. Scott and family have gone to their new home at Richwood. Rev. Litelle and family have arrived.

Several democrats and republicans heard the speech of Hon. Charles Foster at LaRue Tuesday evening.

Ed. Anderson was over from LaRue Thursday in the interest of their street fair.

Candidate Beale has been here shaking hands with his many friends. Let all the candidates come and we will welcome them.

A boy baby came to live with Mr and Mrs Chas. Smith Friday morning last.

Dr. Briggs, of Cochranton, was in town Thursday.

LaRue.

On Tuesday evening Ex Governor Foster addressed the people here. DeLander's hall was packed full and the best of order prevailed. He spoke an hour and a half. Charley is an interesting speaker and we [illegible] he may be elected. He is the people's [illegible] ways has been, and [illegible] respect him most [illegible] his vote will be large. We [illegible] in congress. I hope the [illegible] day, and that [illegible] will bring the news, Charley is elected. Remember Beale, see that he is elected probate judge. Hon. Samuel Barton was present and made a speech. He is a good speaker. We saw Harrison, [illegible] when the train passed. He [illegible] at Lima and [illegible].

On Monday morning the 13th, Celinda Marsh, wife of J. F. Marsh, of LaRue, died suddenly at 4 o'clock. When she retired [illegible] was in ordinary [illegible] her appearance [illegible] life or a [illegible] than [illegible] was 56 years and 6 months [illegible] whose [illegible] old age generally, but it was not so appointed. About 4 o'clock the morning of her death she rose up in bed and fell back dead. Death is a harvest that never fails, no class escapes, it is a common event, therefore, that summons us to suspend the affairs of life and consider those of eternity. In this instance it stole upon the family without a moment's warning, and swept from among them one in active life. She was the daughter of Wm. LaRue, the founder of LaRue, and the only child. Father and mother have long ago passed from time to eternity, and now the whole family is gone. This is another admonition of the uncertainty of life! How thin the drapery that separates us from eternity! How short our journey may be to our last resting place, the grave! The deceased was highly respected, and she merited respect. She will be greatly missed by her neighbors and the community in which she lived. She died almost on the spot where she was reared, the new residence having been erected where her father's formerly stood. He was one of the early settlers of this county. Rev. Thomas preached the funeral at the Baptist church in LaRue. His discourse was able and impressive. The house was densely packed, and very many failed to get in at all.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

The Lilliputians are said to be genuine actors. They play leading parts with full grown actors as supernumaries. The smallest one is only two feet and the largest three feet high.

The scenes for the new play which Sardou is writing for Stuart Robson are laid in Paris. The story depicts club life in that city. It is to be ready for production in September, 1891.

Henry Arthur Jones, the English dramatist, is slight in figure and about 40 years old. He was born on a small farm in Buckinghamshire, and at the age of 13 began earning his own living.

The late Lillian Grubb was the wife of David Hayman. Her last appearance in Chicago was in the opera of "Dorothy" at the Grand. She was the original Sculptress in "Adonis" at Hooley's.

Two dozen youngsters will assist the double male quartette in rendering "The Palms" in the Grace church scene of "The Old Homestead" when the play returns to the Academy of Music in New York city.

The death of Alexandre Chatrian, famous as the collaborateur of Emile Erckmann, is of note because he was joint author of "Le Juif Polonais," from which "The Bells," played by Irving, was adapted.

Ben Baker's death is an irreparable loss to the Actor's Fund. His remarkably wide acquaintance with professionals, old and young, peculiarly qualified him for the duty of investigating the merits of applications for relief.

Miss Mertens, who is now an actress at the Eden theatre, in Paris, and one of the most beautiful women in Europe, was an obscure Vienna girl a few years ago. She is tall and graceful, rather stout, and her skin is of a dead white hue.

For a period of exactly four minutes in "The Maister of Woodbarrow" not a word is spoken in the "polite usages" scene between Mr. Sothern and his valet, Pillin. The scene evokes constant and convulsive laughter, during which neither actors utters a word.

Girard College.

Girard college, in Philadelphia, was founded by the bequest of Stephen Girard, who left $2,000,000, besides the proceeds of a certain portion of his estate, for the erection and establishment of a college for orphans. This edifice, of white marble, built in the Corinthian style, is admitted to be the finest specimen of Grecian architecture in America. It was begun in 1833 and opened in 1848, having cost in its construction almost two millions. A marble statue in the lower vestibule covers the remains of the founder.

It Tipped Him Over.

"How did it happen?" inquired the man who ran to his assistance.

"Because the gentleman on my right side gave me a big tip, and the fellow on my left gave me none, and it overbalanced me."—Dansville Breeze.

A Logical Conclusion.

"Thespis must have had a fearfully large head."

"I don't see why."

"She had so many temples."—Harper's Bazar.

Seasonable Note.

"It is always best to lie on the right side," remarked the stump speaker when he heard of the election of the man he had been advocating.—Texas Siftings.

Robert Downing.

[Philadelphia Inquirer.]

The first performance in a Philadelphia theater of Saumet's tragedy of "The Gladiator" in the English tongue took place at the Grand Opera House, where an audience that was decidedly complimentary to the production saw the interpretation of the sombre and powerful work by Robert Downing and an aggregation of capable actors and actresses. As is well-known to those who have looked upon Salvini's rendering of it, it is in the dramatic sense a better play than that which came from the pen of Dr. Bird, and, therefore, Mr. Downing is wise in taking it up. The character of the Gladiator is conspicuously well adapted to Downing's virile personality and methods, which find ample scope for their extremest employment in the development of the deeply tragic plot. The crucial situation of the play—the arena scene—is exceedingly impressive, because of the discovery made by the "Gladiator" that his own young daughter has been brought in to be slain by him. Downing scored an unequivocal triumph here and was rewarded by a recall. Miss Eugenie Blair displayed talent and grace in her performance of the heroine; the full cast was competent and the tragedy was handsomely staged.

Big Four Report.

The first annual report of the Big Four has been issued in pamphlet form. It shows an increase in gross earnings of $600,787 and an increase in net of $543,716. There was a balance of $1,482,077 after paying fixed charges and a surplus of $162,077 after paying 5 per cent. dividend on preferred and 4 per cent. on common stock. The company spent for new equipment, etc., $1,065,-068, which was not charged to operating expenses. The 15 per cent. of new stock at 70 paid this account and others since June 30. Other new securities have been issued since June 30 for new roads, etc. The old Indiana, Bloomington and Western in three months earned net $121,862, a deficit of $1,155. The "Big Four" pays $[illegible] per annum interest, and advances for interest to be paid back later on. The company received in cash in the year $5,818,652, $[illegible] of it for $[illegible] new bonds, the balance from bills payable, etc. It redeemed net $[illegible] bonds, and spent the rest for new road, property, etc., except a surplus of $[illegible]. The fixed charges for the year to June 30, 1891, will be $3,015,582, the outstanding bonded debt being $[illegible]. The bonded debt increased $[illegible] in the year.

The Census.

Marion, Ind., Chronicle.]

Emerson says, "the truest test of civilization is not the census, nor the size of cities, nor the crops, but the kind of men the country turns out." Now the kind of men the country turns out depends pretty much upon his physical condition, for what use to the world would a race of invalids prove? Such people have no individual independence, and their usefulness and achievements, if any, are of the most meagre and ordinary character when compared with those of the hale, hearty man who takes the world as he finds it, makes the most of it, and leaves it the better for his having passed through it. I remember asking one such how it was he appeared to enjoy such an immunity from disease during especially sickly seasons. His reply came unhesitatingly: "Because I pay prompt attention to the premonitary symptoms of disease, and thus battle continued illness." "But, how is this affected so readily," I asked, "when you so rarely have recourse to the physicians?" "Well," he rapidly reflectively, "some years ago, I learned that man and woman could in no small degree, become their own physican through the medium of a book Humphreys' Mentor or Family Advisor the gift of a friend. After a careful reading I came to the conclusion that it was the most practical volume I had looked into for years, and resolved to test the medicines or specifics it advocated for family use. I ordered a family case, also a veterinary one for the stables, and since then have become, with splendid results, not only my own physician, but the "friend in need" to many around me.

Opening of the Lecture Course.

The Irving and Longfellow lecture course is to consist of a concert by the famous jubilee singers, the Nashville Students; a humorous lecture by Dr. James Hedley; a concert by the Schubert male quartette, of Chicago; an entertainment by Leland Powers and Mrs. Powers; a concert by the renowned Lotus Glee Club, of Boston; a lecture yet to be selected.

No finer entertainments are had by any city in the U. S. than these will afford our people. The members of the two societies have been succeeding nicely in their sale of tickets. We would remind any who have not secured tickets to do so soon and have them reserved at Tristram & Young's soon after 8 a.m. tomorrow.

The Adams Express Robbery.

[Columbus Dispatch.]

Gradually the facts in connection with the recent express robbery on the C., S. and C. road, near Bellefontaine, are coming out. The leader in the job has been identified as a former employe of the road, and Detective Geiger, of the Adams Express Co., residing at Zanesville, is now in the state of Washington (whither he fled) searching for him. The latest estimate on the amount stolen is $11,000. While this may not be correct, certain it is that the loss is over $500, the estimate of the company, as one package which is missing contained $1,300.

First Baptist Church, East St.

The announcement that this house would be open next Sunday, is withdrawn, the place cannot be put in proper order. Pastor Downer went to Urbana today, to visit friends, and thence next week, to the Ohio Baptist convention, which meets at Columbus, Oct. 21-25.

Interesting to Ladies.

I have on hand, and will continue to keep, a well selected stock of stamped linens for outlining, sorento work, Roman embroidery and a suitable line of silks for same. Will do stamping to order. Mrs. C. P. Gatley.

Attend the LaRue Fair.

Dr. C. J. Miller, of Scott Town, was in town Wednesday on business.

Mrs. J. J. Moler, in company with her sister, Mrs. Rosa Wade, visited friends in Upper Sandusky Monday and Tuesday.

A party of young folks left DeCliff Wednesday for the plains in quest of nuts. Those who have made similar trips report a abundance of nuts.

Our young friend, J. H. Bain, has been chosen to address the Farmer's Alliance at LaRue at their next meeting to be held at D. Leonard's opera house, Saturday afternoon, Oct. 18th.
